

Dr. Peter Cha

Peter S. Cha, MD, received his undergraduate degree in Economics from Duke University in Durham, North Carolina, and his medical degree from the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine.

He completed an orthopaedic residency at the University of Cincinnati and a fellowship in orthopaedic sports medicine and shoulder surgery at the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center.

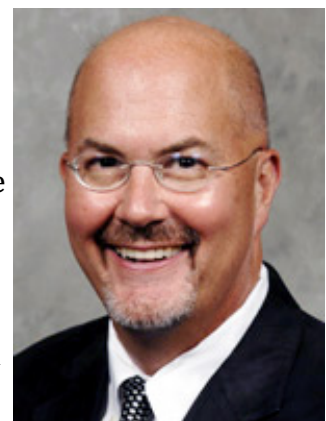

He has worked with high school, intercollegiate and professional athletes in both Cincinnati and Pittsburgh. Most recently, he acted as the assistant team physician for the University of Pittsburgh Division I athletic teams and with the Pittsburgh Steelers professional football team and is Team Physician for Cincinnati Excite. He is currently the team physician of the Cincinnati Cyclones, Cincinnati Wolfhounds and numerous area high schools.

His interests include sports related injuries and pathology of the shoulder, knee, hip, elbow, foot and ankle. Dr. Cha's specialties include trauma, reconstructive procedures, minimally invasive surgical techniques, and arthroscopy.

Dr. Timothy Kremchek

Timothy E. Kremchek, M.D. serves as the Cincinnati Reds Medical Director and Chief Orthopaedic Physician. A native of Cincinnati, Dr. Kremchek returned here and began private practice in Orthopaedic Surgery and Sports Medicine in 1993. A 1986 graduate of the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, Dr. Kremchek completed his orthopaedic residency at Tufts University in Boston, Ma. In 1993, he completed a one year Orthopaedic Sports Medicine Fellowship at the Alabama Sports Medicine Institute in Birmingham AL. under the direction of Dr. James Andrews and Dr. Lawrence Lemak.

Dr. Kremchek is the orthopaedist for Wittenberg University in Springfield, OH. Dr. Kremchek serves as an orthopaedic consultant for the Washington Nationals MLB team and the Florence Freedom, Frontier League Baseball team.

Dr. Kremchek's professional interests range from advanced arthroscopic repair of the shoulder and knee injuries to total joint reconstructions and joint replacements. He has taken an active role in teaching orthopaedics and sports medicine, which has enabled him to be published in professional journals regarding orthopaedics and sports medicine. Dr. Kremchek has been featured on HBO's Real Sports program regarding youth baseball injuries. He has also been featured in ESPN Magazine, Sports Illustrated and USA Today regarding other medical health topics.

Dr. Henry Stiene

Henry A. Stiene, MD serves as co-medical director and team physician for Xavier University, as well as numerous high schools in the Cincinnati area. Born in Cleveland, Ohio, Dr. Stiene is a 1986 graduate of the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine. He completed his residency in internal medicine at The Christ Hospital in Cincinnati, Ohio in 1990. He completed a one-year primary care sports medicine fellowship at Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis, Indiana. Dr. Stiene is a member of Beacon Orthopaedics and Sports Medicine and also serves as a musculoskeletal consultant for the TriHealth Occupational Medicine Centers in Cincinnati.

Dr. Stiene's professional interests include providing orthopaedic care to athletes and patients of all ages and backgrounds. This includes injury prevention, pre-participation evaluation, management of acute and chronic illness or injury, and rehabilitation as applied to a broad spectrum of undifferentiated patients.

Dr. Stiene is published in numerous professional journals and has recently been named co-program director for the Sports Medicine Fellowship Program through the TriHealth/Bethesda Family Medicine Residency Program.