KHS Ranked by U.S. News and World Report

U.S. News & World Report released their Best High Schools Rankings for 2016 this week and Kings High School has again been named among the best high schools in the nation! KHS ranked #460 out of more than 28,000 high schools in the nation, earning a gold medal and giving them the distinction of being in the top 3% in the country!

According to U.S. News Education, "Gold medal schools are those whose students demonstrate the highest level of college readiness, based on students' Advanced Placement or International Baccalaureate participation rate and the proportion of students who do well on exams."

The rankings and data offer the most comprehensive information available on public high schools in the U.S. To produce the rankings, U.S. News worked with a research organization and their methodology reflects how well high schools serve all of their students, not just those who are planning to go to college.

KHS Principal Doug Leist said, "This recognition solidifies our solid academic reputation and places Kings High School in the top 3% of public high schools in the country for preparing students for college. This is a testament to what happens when teachers, students, and parents work together to provide the best possible education for our students. This staff is amazing K-12!"

This ranking makes Kings High School the number one high school in Warren County and ranks KHS in the top ten among other Greater Cincinnati high schools, as well as #15 in the state of Ohio. Last year, KHS was ranked nationally at #600 and #23 in the state of Ohio.

Congratulations to our staff and students of Kings High School for their great success!

KHS Hires New Varsity Basketball Coach

The Kings Board of Education approved Nick Molz, current Wilmington High School Men's Varsity Assistant Coach, to be the next Men's Varsity Basketball Head Coach for the 2016-2017 school year. Nick is a graduate of Kettering Fairmont High School in 2007, where he played basketball for the Firebirds. After high school, Nick began his college career at Capital University where he played for the Crusaders for two years before earning a bachelor's degree in Social Science Education from Wright State University in 2012. He also completed his master's degree at Wright State University in Integrated Social Studies Education in 2013.

Nick has coached 8th grade basketball in Kettering and was head freshman coach at Centerville High School. After serving Centerville, he joined the coaching staff at Wilmington High School from 2014-2016. While at Wilmington, the basketball team had a combined record of 51-4, went undefeated in the South Central Ohio League, and made a run to the Division 1 Final Four this past season. Molz was instrumental in the Hurricaines' success and deep run in the OHSAA Division 1 Tournament.

After the 2014-2015 season, Nick was voted District 15 Assistant Coach of the Year. Molz looks to bring the success from Centerville and Wilmington to his own program at Kings.

Nick will be entering his 4th year of teaching when he arrives at Kings to teach for the 2016-2017 school year. Nick and his wife Erin reside in Mason, where they have a German Shorthaired Pointer named Lewis, and are expecting a baby girl in May. Outside of basketball Nick enjoys reading, fishing, travelling, and watching sports. His goal in coaching is to have a positive and lasting impact on the lives of his players.

You can meet Coach Molz next Wednesday, April 27 at 6:00 p.m. in the KHS Gym at the "Meet the Coach Night."

Beginning today, KME will now recycle plastic, aluminum, and milk cartons. In honor of the new recycling program, the students in Ms. Becki Blumer's Multiple Disability class made a recycling video to educate the KME students about recycling. Watch the video here.

KME Daisy Troop #49905 also celebrated Earth Day by planting a maple tree on the school property. The girls learned about taking care of the earth from Sharon Nursery.

KHS Senior Reflection Night and KHS Art Show

On Thursday, April 21, Kings High School seniors participated in the annual Community Service Reflection Night, a night where all seniors share with the community how they performed their required community service hours.

The evening began with being presented with the Spirit of Service Award to Senior Ashley Miller. Ashley has logged 460 service hours by serving the non-profit agency of Purrfect Friends Cat Rescue.

The featured speaker of the evening was Stephanie Smith, a 1964 Kings graduate and former employee. She spoke to the entire senior class and their guests about the value and importance of community service. She runs a foundation called Heritage Hill Foundation, which raises money to assist cancer patients and their families. Smith's son, Andrew, passed away after battling cancer. Before he passed, Andrew started an art auction with a vision to help others with cancer. His family has continued his dream of helping others with this foundation and their annual Andrew's Art Auction.

After the program in the auditorium, students gathered in assigned classrooms throughout the building to give a short presentation of how their community service impacted their lives and lives of others. Many students used technology such as videos, movies, or Powerpoint presentations to reflect on their service experiences. The Class of 2016 has a combined service of 22,433 hours and counting!

The Kings High School Art Show was held in the Bradford Media last night, as well. Several pieces of art from our undergrad art students, as well as the Senior Art Show projects were on display throughout the media center. We sure have some talented students at KHS!

Vote for KHS Rain Barrel

Making Recycled Paper at SLE

The second grade students at South Lebanon Elementary had the chance to learn about the importance of reusing materials by making recycled paper. Suzanne Geisler, the Education Specialist from Warren County Solid Waste Management talked with the students about protecting our natural resources, like trees, and to reuse as many materials as possible.

KHS Daylight Prom

The students in Angela Zlatic and Junior Ili's special education class at Kings High School were treated like royalty on Thursday, April 21, when they attended the Daylight Prom at the Oasis Golf Club in Loveland. This event is held for those students, who due to physical, medical, behavioral, or family support issues, may not be able to attend a typical evening high school prom. This year's theme was "Disney."

"It is a really cool program for kids with special needs. They have everything a typical prom would have like music, food, and dancing," Ms. Zlatic said.

On the morning of prom, the ladies put on some make-up and had their hair styled just for the occasion. Our gentlemen had their very own "Man Cave" to hang out, get ready together for prom, and learned the proper way to ask a girl to dance. This year, as a special treat, the students walked on the red carpet as they left for prom. The students really enjoyed their day dancing with the eight peer aides that went with them and even some dancing with Mr. Leist!

JFB Students are "Famous"

Second graders at J.F. Burns Elementary are really getting into their research! After studying an influential American, students "became" their famous person and presented their new-found knowledge to their classmates. Mrs. Thomas said, "Their posters are so creative and full of biographical information!"

Winners Walk Tall

While their peers were enjoying a beautiful Early Release Day on Wednesday afternoon, members of the Kings High School National Honor Society were mentoring some kindergarten, first, and second grade students at South Lebanon Elementary. The high school students are a part of Winners Walk Tall, a program run by the KHS NHS, where honor students teach virtues and character building. The honor students work on lessons and implement their lessons into the classrooms. Susie Burdine, SLE Guidance Counselor said, "The kids are having a ball!"

KHS Theatre Presents—The Drowsy Chaperone

Kings High School Theatre will perform The Drowsy Chaperone, an homage to American musicals of the Jazz Age, examining the effect musicals have on the fans who adore them, next weekend April 28, 29, & 30 at 7:00 p.m. in the KHS Auditorium.

The Man in Chair, a mousy, agoraphobic Broadway fanatic, seeking to cure his "non-specific sadness," listens to a recording of a fictional 1928 musical comedy, The Drowsy Chaperone. As he listens to this rare recording, he is transported into the musical. The characters appear in his dingy apartment, and it is transformed into an impressive Broadway set with seashell footlights, sparkling furniture, painted backdrops, and glitzy costumes

Watching from his armchair, Man in Chair is torn between his desire to absorb every moment of the show as it unfolds and his need to insert his personal footnotes and his extensive-but-trivial knowledge of musical performances and actors, as he frequently brings the audience in and out of the fantasy. As the show goes on, more of his personal life is revealed through his musings about the show, until, as the record ends, he is left again alone in his apartment — but still with his record of a long-beloved show to turn to whenever he's blue.

This KHS production features over 50 students in the cast, crew and pit orchestra who have poured countless hours into preparing to perform the show for three nights. Tickets are now available for online presale at https://www.ticketracker.com/store/events/1582 for just $10 (Adults) or $8 (Students/Senior Citizens).

United Way Delivers Books to Kings Preschool

For the second year in a row, every child at Kings Preschool was given an activity box containing three books, a clipboard, and activity book this week as a part of the United Way of Warren County's Kindergarten Readiness Program. The United Way of Warren County, in partnership with The Duke Energy Foundation and the Franklin Area Chamber of Commerce are working together to promote childhood literacy and ensuring that every child in Warren County is ready for kindergarten. The activity box was created so children and their parents could enjoy reading and learning together this summer.

SLE Secret Detectives Prepare for State Testing

State testing began in the Kings District this week. To prepare for the AIR tests, 3rd grade students at South Lebanon Elementary have become secret detectives! Secret detectives use what they have learned to solve problems, have stamina, work carefully and follow directions. They persevere, are sneaky to find hidden clues, try their best, work quietly to concentrate, and check over their work. And, most importantly, they do all of these things while keeping their cool and staying confident!

4th Grade Etiquette Lunch

For the past several weeks, the 4th graders at South Lebanon Elementary have been taking Etiquette classes with Anne Overturf. Mrs. Overturf began by teaching the students the 7 Knightly Virtues of courage, justice, mercy, generosity, trust, nobility and hope. They learned how and when to write thank you notes, polite phone manners, conversation skills, proper eating etiquette, and much more. After learning all their manners, students finished the unit with an Etiquette Luncheon at TPC Rivers Bend Country Club last Friday, April 15.

All of the students practiced perfect manners while eating a four course meal. The students were taught that when a lady left the table, the gentlemen stood up. The students agreed that the new skills would serve them well in life, especially as they get older and start working. Thanks to everyone who made the Etiquette Luncheon a big success, especially the SLE PTO who sponsored the event. It was a wonderful event, and all of the students were very well mannered.

This therapy dog program is designed to help kids gain confidence and become more comfortable in their reading. The children read to the dog, Kena, a Labrador Retriever, and listened to stories while sitting with the dog. Kena is specifically trained to be gentle and nurturing to children. The students had a great time and Kena loved the attention!

Recycling Can Be Tasty!

Mrs. Shepherd's 1st grade class at Kings Mills Elementary learned about reducing and recycling with a tasty treat this week. The students enjoyed cereal bars made from crisped rice and fruit ring cereal. The crisp rice represented the materials needed to create a new road. The fruit ring cereal represented recycled materials such as shoes and tires that can be used in place of the original materials. Students learned that by recycling things they can reduce the amount of new materials need to be made to build roads and other things.
