Spread
Kindness.
ALWAYS!

The Great Kindness Challenge

Students around the district have been participating in this week's Great Kindness Challenge. It is a week focused on creating a culture of kindness. Last year's GKC impacted over 5 million students and 8 thousand schools in over 60 countries performing over 250 million acts of kindness.

J.F. Burns Elementary has been a Kindness Certified School for 4 years. Throughout this week, Good Morning America featured photos of students with KINDNESS MATTERS photos. If you go to the GMA Facebook page, you may see some familiar faces!

Students at Columbia Intermediate were spreading kindness with signs and a decorated showcase. The students at J.F. Burns participated in kindness lessons all week taught by JFB Counselor, Emily Sander. Students from Kings High School presented lessons on kindness to the second grade classes and some KHS Band Members performed for the first grade and wrote letters to sick children at Cincinnati Children's Hospital.

The entire school learned the song "Kind-Hearted Hand." On Friday morning, Mrs. Waugh/Brendemuhl's Third Grade Glass led the hall-filled student body in singing the song. You can watch it here.

Best Buddies Club Winter Ice Breaker

The Best Buddies Club, a club that unites students with multiple disabilities with typical students, held their first event of the year this week, a Winter Ice Breaker. The club tries to host gatherings to allow the MD students to form new friendships and try new things.

More than 100 students volunteered at the event where they gathered in squads for their friends with disabilities to support them throughout the night's activities. They played a speed-friending game with conversation starters, as well as paid compliments to each other in honor of National Compliment Day.

Additionally, the students worked on a scrapbook for their friend with disabilities that contains memories including letters introducing themselves to their families and pictures from the party. All students had the opportunity to get their picture taken in a photo booth that was donated for the evening by the Thibodeau Family.

The whole group joined in on Just Dance 2017 and had a great time eating pizza, decorating cookies, and enjoying a hot chocolate bar. The Club is planning another event which is TBA.

Bald Eagle Sighting in Area

There has been a sighting of a bald eagle around the Landen area. Several Kings Families have snapped pictures of the beautiful bird. Shannon Russell, owner of Mother Nature's Classroom said, "How appropriate that our national bird should make an appearance right now, as our country is getting ready to swear in a new president. There are lots of great history tie-ins here, in addition to numerous science-curriculum connections."

Students at J.F. Burns Elementary have been keeping a watch out for the bird and possibly for its mate. Russell also said that it is almost egg-laying time, so if a nest is nearby, we could potentially see more!

Even though the bald eagle was removed from the federal endangered species list several years ago, they are still considered a threatened species, and citizen scientists are encouraged to report sightings! To learn more about bald eagles click here.

Thank you to the Shulz and Schowalter Families for the great pictures!

CIS Math Students Collaborate with New Furniture

When Columbia Intermediate School fifth graders on Team Epic returned from Winter Break, they found some new furniture in their math classroom!

They have seven new dry-erase tables that they can use to work on their math problems. Mrs. Bell said, "Not only do these tables allow us more room to move freely in the classroom but we can have great math conversations and work more cooperatively with small groups and in partners."

Mrs. Bogaert researched buying the tables and found them at a tremendous discount! She said, "We exchanged all of the desks for the tables and they are working great!"

In the picture, students were developing their own strategies for multiplying mixed numbers by doubling and tripling a pancake recipe. After students had their strategies on the table, they could go visit the other tables to compare and see different ways to solve the same problem.

The new tables are all part of our district strategic plan of helping our students to learn to be more innovative and collaborative.

Three Kings High School students have advanced to the Semi-final Competition of the Cincinnati Overture Awards. The Semi-finals will be held February 11 at the Aronoff Center. Congratulations and good luck to Morgan Reece who will participate in Theatre, Amy Helms in Vocal Music, and Olivia Doyle who will compete in the Visual Art Competition.

Students who are named one of four finalists in their category will be invited to perform at the Aronoff Center on March 11 and will each take home a scholarship. To learn more about the competition click here.

Kings Students Sing with All-State Children's Chorus

Five Kings students will be performing at the Ohio Music Education Association Conference in Cleveland, Ohio as members of the All-State Children's Chorus. The performance will take place on Thursday, February 2 at 5:00 p.m. in the Hope Ballroom of the downtown Cleveland Hilton Hotel.

These students submitted a recorded audition back in May and were notified in August of their acceptance into the chorus.

The girls have been rehearsing at Xavier University the past three Saturdays with other All-State Chorus members from the southwest region of Ohio. The chorus will feature approximately 100 students selected from throughout the state, and will be conducted by Florida State University music professor Judy Bowers. Congratulations and good luck, ladies! We know you will make Kings proud!

Pictured clockwise from bottom left: Sydney Smith, Madeline Hartke, Samantha Rajauskas, Katie Gibson and Leah Christman. This will be the first time for Leah, Samantha, and Sydney to perform with the chorus. Katie and Madeline were members of the chorus in 2016.

Field Trip for KHS Art Students

A group of approximately 40 Kings High School Visual Art students recently visited two design firms in downtown Cincinnati. The first stop was LPK Global Brand Design Agency where their motto is 'Taking Brands to Extraordinary.' Kelly Smith, Vice-President and Managing Creative Director and Kings Resident, spoke with the group along with a panel of designers who worked in product design and development, graphics, and marketing/advertising.

The second firm was Curiosity Advertising where Matt Fischer, President and Chief Creative Officer, spoke with our students. He also recruited a panel of employees including a copywriter, a videographer, and an art director to talk to the students and allow them to ask questions.

Students also saw the 38 visual art pieces from KHS on display that are a part of the Regional Scholastics Exhibit at the Art Academy of Cincinnati. KHS Art Teacher, Angie Guilfoyle said, "It was a very educational and inspiring day for everyone!"

For more info on these local firms, visit: <https://www.lpk.com/> and <https://curiosity360.com/>.

Learning Layers of the Atmosphere at CIS

The students in Mrs. Briscoe's 5th Grade Gifted Round Table Group at Columbia Intermediate School are studying Earth and Space in Science. Recently they did a mini research project on the layers of the atmosphere. In small groups they researched the troposphere, stratosphere, mesosphere, thermosphere, and exosphere. They created a graph, answered questions, and made a shoebox diorama to go with their layer. In the end they stacked the boxes so they could see the order of the layers and what occurs in each layer, like the Aurora Borealis (Northern Lights).

Congratulations to Kings Mechanic and Bus Driver, Duane Crowe on his retirement. Duane has worked in Kings/Petermann Transportation for 15 years.

This week he was surprised with a lunch pizza party with his fellow transportation employees. Dave Smith, Assistant Transportation Manager said, "Duane works on and occasionally drives buses when needed. He has also helped some of the employees with their personal car issues, and has helped many students whose cars would not start or that had locked their keys in the cars while parked at the school." Thank you for your service, Duane. Good luck in retirement!

Awareness Program Coming to Kings

The Kings School District, in partnership with the Loveland Police Department and Loveland Drug Task Force will present a unique drug awareness program, "Right Under Your Nose" on Monday, February 27 at 6:30 p.m. in the Kings High School Auditorium. This ADULTS ONLY program educates parents, coaches, teachers, and caregivers about the unseen hazards our children are facing.

There will be a realistic exhibit designed to resemble a teenager's bedroom. Topics include substance use, violence, juvenile crime, technology, risky game/challenges, and more. Doors open at 5:45 p.m. and the event speaker will begin promptly at 6:30 p.m.

In addition to the presentation, attendees will have the opportunity to hear a personal story from Kings Parent, Beth Renner who experienced the effects of substance abuse in her own family. Participants will have access to information about various resources available for drug addiction, mental health, and preventative programs.

The Kings Local School District invites you to:

Kings Stagelighers Receive Donation

Kings Stagelighers, a booster group that supports Kings Theatre, received a generous check this week from Paul and Lori Daumeyer.

A $2,000 check was presented during the opening night of School House Rock LIVE, Jr. to Stagelighers President, Mark Abbott and Director, Scott Hayward.

The Daumeyer's established a scholarship in memory of their beautiful daughter, Kaylyn who tragically lost her life in an ATV accident in August of 2015. The scholarship was established to support the performing arts programs in the Kings District.

On the Kaylyn Daumeyer Memorial Fund website it states, "Kaylyn loved performing in theatre and dancing and playing in the band." The Daumeyer's wanted to honor Kaylyn since she loved her time spent on stage. The Kaylyn Daumeyer Theatre Scholarship will be awarded in her memory to a senior who has actively participated in the theatre program while at Kings.

Kings Stagelighers write, "Kings is grateful for this opportunity to continue her legacy by offering scholarships for deserving students in her name."

Kings Bus Driver Uses Curious George to Help with Route

At the beginning of this school year, longtime Kings Bus Driver, Marsha Brashear found herself with a bus full of sad preschoolers. She and her aide, Jeanine Lasco began using a stuffed animal to help the students feel more comfortable on the bus.

Marsha bought a Curious George stuffed animal and allows each child to hold it before they get off the bus. The first person off the bus passes it to the next. She said the students learned the bus route quickly based on when they were holding George. Curious George has been loved so much that he had a hole and had to visit the "hospital." Brashear said, "Some of the preschoolers missed him so much that they cried."

Brashear also continued the monkey theme by purchasing a monkey ornament for each of her bus riders at Christmas and she has already purchased a Curious George stuffed animal for each of her riders as an end of the year gift!

Lynn Brant, KHS Math Teacher and Track Coach said, "She takes great pride in safely delivering the kids to and from school and athletic events." Mrs. Brashear was also on hand during an emergency situation in December when Brant said, "I was reminded of the comfort she gives to our students!"

Do You Know an Excellent Educator?

The Project Excellence Committee of the Area Progress Council of Warren County, Inc. seeks to recognize and honor innovative or excellent teachers within the public schools in Warren County. In their 30th year, the Area Progress Council has awarded $458,800 to 624 educators. They are asking for your assistance in identifying exceptional educators who demonstrate excellence in instruction, or innovative teachers who have pioneered a teaching method. The educator must hold a current teaching certificate and work for the public school system.

Complete a nomination form from the Area Progress Council website to nominate a deserving Kings Teacher. Winners receive a cash award and are recognized at a banquet in May. Completed nominations are due by February 24, 2017. Previously recognized teachers from Kings include Tracy Kleis, Holly Mueller, Steve France, Stephanie Marchal, Ken Johnson, and Cindy Null.

Dance Team Fundraising

The Kings Dance Team is still looking for donations to help offset some of the expense of their trip to Oahu, Hawaii to perform at the Pearl Harbor.

They have setup a GoFundMe account to make it easy for those wishing to contribute. Visit gofundme.com/kings-dance-team-tour-pearl-harbor

Thank you for your support of our team and those who serve our country!

Parent Information Night for Students with Disabilities

Kings High School is hosting a Parent Information Night on Wednesday, March 15 from 7:00-8:00 p.m. in the Kings High School Media Center. The evening will feature Jennifer M. Radt, Director of Disability Services, Enrollment, and Student Services at the University of Cincinnati, Clermont College.

The evening is specifically geared towards our students with disabilities and 504 plans that are planning on going to college. Radt will offer information on services available at the college level for students with disabilities.

This is the first time that Kings has offered this type of information in this setting. Kings High School Intervention Specialists have been working diligently on assisting their students with disabilities to provide them with information for post-secondary options.

All are welcome.
